

Marion Reidel - Bio

Reidel took up writing following centuries of teaching Canada's youth. She regularly performs at Open Mic nights because she craves attention and loves to make people laugh.

Her first collection of stories, "We Drank Wine" included award winning works from the Eden Mills Writers' Festival. "Café Conversations", Reidel's follow-up collection was long listed for the Stephen Leacock Medal for Humour in 2020. Scenes adapted from "Café Conversations" have been performed at Guelph Little Theatre and the Asphalt Jungle Shorts, in Kitchener.
