

Jennifer A. Irwin is terrible at hockey, but that hasn't stopped her from having a tiny (huge) crush on Sidney Crosby. She holds a bachelor's and master's degree in English literature, as well as a bachelor's in education from McGill University. She lives in Pointe Claire, Quebec, with her husband, two sons, and a cat and dog who are locked in the grips of an intense love/hate relationship. Her first novel, Captain Skidmark Dances with Destiny, was shortlisted for the Quebec Writer's Federation's Janet Savage Blachford Prize for Children's and Young Adult Literature.
