

A CHARMING, CHUCKLESOME ADVENTURE
FOR ANIMAL-LOVERS OF ALL AGES

Tulip has hot Norwegian blood and Norse dreams, but her city condo world is soft, dull and rife with kibble. Then, it all goes kablooey. Tulip finds herself accidentally abandoned in the ruthless north woods of Lake Huron, staring down fearsome creatures, stalking bugs and other breakfast foods, cheating death and wondering at the shadowy menace on her trail. It's a lot for one little cat to take in, let alone survive, even for Tulip the Brave.
